Bedazzled: 5,000 Years of Jewelry highlights the passion of Henry Walters (1848–1931) for magnificent jewelry from a large variety of cultures and periods. Mr. Walters' collecting efforts resulted in the most wide-ranging private collection of jewelry in the United States, spanning the period from 3000 B.C. to the early 20th century, from simple Mesopotamian stone pendants to masterpieces created by Tiffany and Co.!
